THANKS MS. MEIER AND THE YEARBOOK STAFF!!

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU

A huge thank you goes out to Ms. Sarah Meier for helping to put together this year's yearbook. Sarah dedicated herself to the yearbook from September until March. The students who were a part of yearbook learned picture taking skills, planning, organization, and the importance of deadlines from Ms. Meier. A big thank you to her for helping make Elkhorn Middle School's yearbook a success!

LIBRARY NEWS

MS. HARTMAN

As the school year winds down, the library would like to remind students and parents that EMS ebooks will be available for checkout during the summer. Students may stop into the library anytime to get additional information regarding ebook accounts and the Destiny Discover app. There is also a tutorial on the Library Web Page located beneath the banner, under the How Do I link.

AUGUST BACK-TO-SCHOOL 101

Elkhorn Middle School will be holding Back-to-School 101 on August 10th from 10 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. for all students. Please include this important event in your summer plans.

WOMENADE 2017-2018 BACKPACK PROGRAM

The end of the school year is fast approaching and Womenade of Elkhorn will once again be sponsoring their annual backpack/school supply drive for families needing assistance in the Elkhorn School District. If your family would benefit from assistance with backpack and/or school supplies, please complete the attached assistance request form (page __ of this newsletter) or contact Elkhorn Middle School to pick up a form at the office. Requests must be completed and returned to the counseling center no later than May 12th, 2017. Womenade will then host a backpack distribution night where the students will receive their backpacks and fill them with the school supplies they need. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me at 402-289-2428 or gowens@epsne.org.

SPORTS PHYSICALS FOR 2017-2018 SPORTS (GRADES 8-12)

Physicals must be dated after May 1st, 2017 for your child to participate in sports activities for the 2017-2018 school year.

Sports Physicals will no longer be offered at EHS. All 7th & 8th graders for the 2017-2018 school year who plan to participate in sports at EMS will need a sports physical. Please contact your health care provider to arrange for your child to get a Sports Physical for next year. Keep in mind that Sports Physicals for next school year must be dated after May 1, 2017. Most physician offices will get very busy in late summer so schedule your appointments early. Fall sports will begin the first week of school in mid August and students are not allowed to participate without having a Sports Physical turned in.

Reminder: All 7th grade students are required to have a complete health examination by their health care provider. This will also cover their sports participation physical if they are planning to participate in any sports activities during the 2017-2018 school year.

ACTIVITIES WEBSITES AND SUMMER SPORTS CAMPS

Each summer Elkhorn coaches and sponsors offer a variety of sports/activity camps for students of all ages. Available camps will be posted online at elkhornweb.org/antlers and elkhornweb.org/storm by April 1, 2017. Parents can go online to browse camps and download registration flyers.

Please note: Elkhorn Public Schools only posts summer camp information for camps hosted by an EPS coach or sponsor as related to his or her duties within the school district.

Talking to Your Teen

Below are suggestions. Your School System has provided a confidential, free resource for you to call for any additional questions or help. Call Arbor Family Counseling at 402-330-0960 24 hrs a day

The following may be helpful to improve the level of conversation:

1. Don't be afraid to ask your teen about current provocative shows or events in the media. They are responding.
2. Hold an important conversation about the difference between what is portrayed on TV and real life, asking them to tell you the difference.
3. Remember that your teen will decide. He or she can tell you a lot or a little. You can accept the good moods and ignore the bad ones.
4. Validate your teen's feelings without going overboard. "I can really understand how you must have felt" is better than "Wow! That must have been SO embarrassing!"
5. Knowing how to acknowledge and respond to your teen who shares their thoughts of emotional distress or suicide with you is important. Don't judge them or their thoughts. Listen. Be caring and kind. Offer to stay with them.
6. If your teen tells you they are suicidal, take them seriously and get help. Contact your school counselor or call us at Arbor, 402-330-0960.
7. If they exhibit any warning signs, don't be afraid to ask if they are anxious, depressed or have thought about suicide or if someone is hurting them. Raising the issue of suicide does not increase the risk or plant the idea. On the contrary, it creates the opportunity to offer help.
8. Ask your child if they think any of their friends or classmates exhibit warning signs. Talk with them about how to seek help for their friend or classmate. Guide them on how to respond when they see or hear any warning signs.
9. Tell your teen what's going on with you. Over time your teenager may come to see that volunteering a report is acceptable.
10. Share your own memories on specific subjects. Tell your teen how you survived particularly stressful events yourself.
11. Keep things light. If you can get your teen to laugh at you or at his or her self, your relationship will go far - because it's fun and safe.

Parent-Speak Teenagers Hear

The following may be helpful in getting your teenager to hear what you're saying:

1. Make statements describing how you feel (use "I" a lot).

11605 Arbor Street, Suite 106, Omaha, NE 68144
PH: 402-330-0960 or 800-922-7379 FAX: 402-330-8815
WEB: www.arborfamilycounseling.com

2. If you need to discuss something important, think it through (you can even make notes if you need to).
3. Be clear and concise in your messages. If you don't approve of teenage drinking, say so.
4. Convey love in all your messages.

How NOT to Talk to Your Teen

Here's what not to do when you talk to your teen:

1. Deliver a lecture or a monologue with no opportunity for you teen to respond.
2. Take an authoritarian approach.
3. Open with an accusation.
4. Fail to take into account your teen's perspective.
5. Yell to get your point across.
6. Nag. It doesn't work anyway.
7. Criticize. There may be circumstances you wish to express your opinion, and that's okay. Just say how you feel in a non-accusatory way.

Listening to Your Teen

Listening is more than just being quiet while someone else talks. Here are some guidelines for listening:

1. Pay attention to the trivial as well as the important.
2. Give your undivided attention to your teen if he or she is telling you something that is important to them.
3. Teens share intimacies at some of the most awkward times. If you can, try to clear time to listen right then; if you can't, let your teen know that you really do want to talk and suggest another time.
4. Ask questions to clarify, but not to criticize.

Some Final Thoughts on Communicating With Your Teen

1. Though your teen wants to talk on his or her terms, they still want to communicate with you.
2. Find activities you can do together to foster opportunities for talking.
3. Listen more than you talk.
4. Don't nag, lecture, or criticize. These do not promote communication.
5. Try to resist bringing up touchy issues you and your teen spoke about previously.
6. While you must still be the parent in this relationship, try treating your teen with the respect and tact you would use with a good friend.
